

Underwater Love

This thought provoking exhibition features the underwater photography and videography work of Pamela Martin along with Rebeka Clarke's Ceramic Coral Creations.

Pamela, a recent graduate of Canberra's CIT Advance Diploma in Photography, has been photographing the Humpback whale population off the Vava'u Islands of Tonga for the past 5 years. Her vision is to inspire the protection of these magnificent, gentle giants through her photography.

Canberra Artist, Rebeka Clarke recently graduated from the ANU School of Art. Her exquisite Ceramic Coral works will be displayed along side Pamela's large format prints and continuously screening video images, helping immerse the audience in the delightful experience of the underwater world.

All profits made from the sale of Pamela's work will be donated to the Whale and Dolphin Conservation Society (WDCS).
